Secretary Marshall Back To U.N. Parley

Claims U.S. Foreign Policy Is United

Washington, Oct. 11—(AP)—Secretary of State Marshall was flying back to the United Nations meeting in Paris tonight, after saying the world now has evidenced that United States foreign policy is "completely united."

Those were the words he used upon his departure from Washington National Airport to describe the end result of a round of statements issued by both Democratic and Republican leaders on President Truman's now discarded proposal to send Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson on a peace mission to Moscow.

But as he went aboard the president's own plane, the Independence, to begin his trip, he was by no means certain whether the "harmful influence" which he said disclosure of the Vinson affair had on the meeting at Paris had been eliminated.

He told newsmen that there was no doubt that "confusion" had arisen in Paris over the fact that the news of the incident broke on Friday night whereas, Marshall said, Mr. Truman had abandoned the project on last Tuesday afternoon. This confusion, he said, had exercised "harmful influence" on the Paris meeting.

He asked whether the various week-end declarations of a continued bipartisan foreign policy had eliminated the harmful influence. He replied, "I can answer that better after I get back to Paris."

Vinson Affair Would Harm U. S. Diplomatic officials had expressed the view that, if the United States had single-handedly taken such a step as sending Vinson to Moscow, it would have injured American relations with the countries with which the United States is cooperating in presenting the Berlin problem to the United Nations.

With Marshall aboard the huge presidential plane which will reach the French capital tomorrow where Paul G. Hoffman, administrator of the European aid program, and Ambassador Walter Bedell Smith, American envoy to Moscow, Hoffman is enroute to ECA conferences in Paris and Smith is going back to his post in the Soviet capital after two weeks of conferring with officials in Washington.

Marshall himself was taking back to the American delegation at the crucial UN meeting the latest ideas which Mr. Truman and he had worked out for dealing with the issues now up there. When the secretary was asked whether he had some new answers to outstanding questions he replied "none that I can tell you about now."

Nation's Auto Industry Will Up Production

Detroit, Oct. 11—(AP)—Barring some shortages, now unexpected, the nation's car industry will build 1,200,000 more vehicles this year.

On the basis of the present labor and materials outlook the factories are certain to fill that schedule. If they do, the year's total production will go slightly over 5,200,000 cars and trucks, second only to the record mark of 5,358,420 units achieved in 1929.

This estimate, shared in many industry quarters, takes into account the model changes planned by most of the car makers yet to bring out their 1949 vehicles.

Last week the industry built an estimated 112,000 units; it should do fully as well this week. All indications point to October as the industry's first half-million months since the summer of 1941.

Gov. Dewey Defends Taft-Hartley Law

Pittsburgh, Oct. 11—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey tonight defended the Taft-Hartley law, assailed the Truman administration for denouncing it, and proposed a 12-point program for labor.

"No administration ever made so many fundamental blunders even from basic political motives," the Republican presidential nominee declared.

His speech, the first major address of round two in his campaign, was prepared for delivery in Hunt armory at 7:30 p.m. (CST). It was slated to be broadcast nationally (CBS).

The New York governor talked in the bluntest terms he has used to date in his criticism of the Democratic administration under President Truman.

He made no specific reference to the president's abandoned plan to send Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson to Moscow—an idea Dewey is known to regard as a desperate blunder.

But the GOP candidate said: "We are electing a Republican administration that will unfailingly back up the work of its own representatives in the United Nations for peace."

As for the Taft-Hartley law, which Mr. Truman wants repealed, Dewey said "it is not perfect, whenever it needs change it will be changed." He added:

"But it does ensure that collective bargaining is encouraged and that the wage earner has an inalienable right to quit his job."

Dewey accused the administration of deliberately using enactment of the labor measure to "stir up dissension and confusion."

Supreme Court Backs State Ban On Slot Machines

Washington, Oct. 11—(AP)—The U. S. supreme court today refused to interfere with a lower court ruling that an employer must bargain with a union before giving "merit raises" to individual workers.

But the high court agreed to review another case—a lower court's ruling that there was nothing wrong when a textile mill granted a general wage increase without notifying union officials.

The decision to be issued as a result of this review may further clarify an employer's obligations, under present labor laws, to talk over any pay raises with the representative union.

In other cases, the supreme court: 1. Upheld the right of states to ban slot machines, pinball games and other such devices.

2. Refused to hear an appeal by Mrs. Kathleen Nash Durant, former WAC captain, against her conviction in the $1,500,000 Hesse crown jewel theft case.

3. Postponed decision on a plea for a rehearing by 11 leaders of the joint anti-fascist Refugee committee, who were convicted of contempt of congress.

4. Refused to reconsider its decision last term that an employer must include premium pay for night and other odd-hour work when figuring a worker's average wage to determine overtime rates. The labor department, which enforces the law requiring time and a half pay after 40 hours, announced that it will begin on Oct. 18 requiring employers to observe this court decision.

Two Men Burned In Mine Explosion Near Terre Haute

Terre Haute, Ind., Oct. 11—(AP)—Two men were burned, neither seriously, in an explosion tonight at the Dresser mine six miles southwest of here. Mine Superintendent Harry Cruikshank reported.

Cruikshank said about 13 other miners were working in the area where the explosion occurred but that all have been accounted for. Nearly 40 men were working in the mine at the time, he said.

The two injured workers were William Davidson and George Kresak. They were taken to Union hospital here.

Cause of the blast was not known immediately. The mine is owned by the Walter Bledsoe Co., and is located next to the Dresser power plant. The power plant was not damaged by the explosion.

Cruikshank said the blast occurred about 6 p.m. (CST).

ST. BERNARD PUPPY SAVES MISTRESS' LIFE

Sarasota, Fla., Oct. 11—(AP)—As a four-month-old St. Bernard pup played about her feet, Mrs. Maude Brand set up a washing machine in her backyard during the weekend.

The ground was wet and when she plugged in the cord an electric shock knocked her to the ground. She couldn't let go the cord and lay painfully hurt.

The pup sniffed at his mistress and tugged at the cord until it was pulled from the machine, stopping the flow of current.

Mrs. Brand is recovering.

UNGRACIOUS GUEST

Macon, Ga., Oct. 11—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. James E. Sutton told police today a prowler entered their apartment last night, tried a dozen eggs, used a quarter pound of butter on toast and left dirty dishes in the sink.

Nation's Miners Vote To Hike Lewis' Pay

Cincinnati, Oct. 11—(AP)—The Nation's coal diggers today voted John L. Lewis a $50,000 yearly salary, about the highest fixed pay for any labor leader in the world.

Then the miners, in convention here, raised dues and initiation fees to fatten the United Mine Workers' treasury against possible new strike troubles and fines.

Lewis warned the 3,000 delegates they should make read for the future by building up a strong reserve. He said the next fine, if there is one, might be $10,000,000 or more.

A $1,420,000 fine imposed by federal Justice T. Alan Goldsborough for contempt of a back-to-work order in last spring's pension strike is being appealed to the supreme court.

By voting to double the dues—from an average of $2 a month to a flat $4 throughout the country—the 400,000 soft coal miners and the 80,000 anthracite diggers were handing over to their international officers more than $1,000,000 a month.

The international will get half of the $4. The local will get $1 and the district organization will get the other dollar.

Pensioners and unemployed miners will pay only $1 a month as inactive members.

The dues of Canadian miners in the union and members of Lewis' catch-all district 50 will be fixed by the UMW executive board from time to time. The union claims 600,000 members in all.

The fee to join the union was jumped from $10 to $50. The local will take $20 of the new fee, and the international will get the other $30.

The boosts in dues and initiation fee were not approved without a struggle.

When the fee hike uproar began to look serious, Lewis strode to the rostrum to argue for the administration proposal. He pounded home the idea that the union must be strong financially to meet the future.

Opponents protested that times might get worse and they would not be able to afford such a high monthly dues checkoff.

But their objections were overwhelmed when Lewis grabbed the gavel and shouted for a showdown. Only a sprinkling of hands were raised against the dues.

Open Court Fight On Natural Gas Delivery Dispute

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 11—(AP)—Opening statements were heard today in the federal court injunction suit brought by the federal power commission in a dispute over a natural gas delivery restrictions.

The action seeks to make Illinois Power company obey an ordered 50 per cent curtailment in natural gas deliveries to industries in Decatur, Champaign and Danville. The reduction was ordered Sept. 17 by Panhandle Eastern Pipeline company.

Illinois Power complied temporarily with the restriction but later restored full service when the Illinois Commerce commission directed that Panhandle's order be ignored.

Federal Judge Charles Briggles today allowed a power commission motion that the Commerce commission be made a party in the suit.

Lee Martin, assistant attorney general, represented the state agency. Opposing counsel argued that the Panhandle order was "reasonable" and that "Panhandle has oversold its line."

Bradford Ross, FPC attorney, said that last month demands of Panhandle customer were such that curtailment of interruptible loads became necessary.

French Refuse Red Demand For Rail Wage Hike

Paris, Oct. 11—(AP)—The French government refused tonight communist demands for wage increases in the nationalized railroads and threatened to fire any strikers who keep others off the job.

The position of the government was made known by transport Minister Christian Pineau as pro-communist unions pressed toward a general transport stoppage in the face of another high government official's charge that the communist had ordered the present strike wave.

A week-old general strike in the nation's coal mines continued with no sign of a break.

Pineau told leaders of the communist-controlled national federation of labor (CGT) in conferences today he could not approve raises which would mean another 30 per cent increase in rail fares. He announced concessions on other points, including vacations and up-grading of job classifications.

Irishman Misses Ship, Roams U.S. For Three Years

Chicago, Oct. 11—(AP)—John James Hannon, 32, a brother of an Irish seaman, walked into the Chicago avenue police station and said: "I am homesick. I want to go back to Ireland."

Obliging police turned Hannon over to immigration authorities today and Marcus Neeley, district enforcement officer, said the homesick son of Erin told him this story: Hannon missed his boat in Baltimore, Md., in May, 1945. He toured the United States, holding a variety of jobs. Then he came to Chicago and worked for a railroad.

Hannon said he liked this country but wants to go back to County Leitrim in North Ireland and live with his sister.

He is being held without charge in county jail pending a hearing. Neeley said Hannon is in this country illegally and will either be deported to Ireland or sent back to sea.

Efforts To Mediate Berlin Crisis Stalled

Truman Blasts Dewey In Earnest At Akron

Akron, O., Oct. 11—(AP)—President Truman, out to "take the hide off" his republican opposition, openly embraced the whole new deal tonight and said Thomas E. Dewey "proposed to destroy it with a hatchet job."

Mr. Truman spoke here in the windup of a day that saw him swinging at Dewey the sharpest, most direct punches he has cut loose so far in the campaign. He didn't use his rival's name.

He said his opponents "haven't got it in them to speak plainly and honestly" on campaign issues.

He said Dewey is pouring out "soothing syrup" and "sweet nothings" instead of focusing on the real issues of "peace, prices and places to live."

He ignored John L. Lewis in Cincinnati, where the United Mine Workers has been denouncing him at the union convention. But all along the way he swung at Dewey and Senator Robert A. Taft, Ohio republican.

Stevenson Blames Granata Slaying On Republicans

Chicago, Oct. 11—(AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic candidate for governor, said tonight that the killing of William John Granata, Cook county circuit court clerk candidate, is a symptom of "sordid leadership of the Republican party in Illinois."

Stevenson named several men prominent in Cook county and State Republican affairs who, he said, were involved in gambling activities, intimate with gangsters or had records of past corruption.

At a Chicago veterans' rally, the Democratic candidate for U.S. senator, Paul H. Douglas, declared that his Republican opponent, Sen. C. Wayland Brooks was for appeasement in the Berlin crisis.

"There are those who say that if we withdraw from Berlin and give in to the Russians, peace will be assured," Douglas said.

"The Chicago Tribune, Brooks' mentor, has been advocating just this sort of action, and one can only assume that Brooks, himself, advocates it."

N. D. Publisher Named President Of Inland Press

Chicago, Oct. 11—(AP)—M. M. Oppenard, editor and publisher of the Grand Forks, N.D. Herald, was elected president of the Inland Daily Press Association today.

Oppenard succeeds Joseph M. Bunting, general manager of the Bloomington, Ill. Pantagraph, who will become board chairman. The association has a membership of 422 daily newspapers.

Oscar S. Stauffer, president of the Stauffer newspapers and publisher of the Kansas State Journal, Topeka, was elected vice-president.

Directors named for three year terms at the group's 64th annual meeting are: Albert M. Marshall, editor and publisher of the Red Wing, Minn. Republican Eagle; Joe H. Nixon, president of the Peru, Ind. Tribune, and Louis A. Weil Jr., publisher of the Grand Rapids, Mich. Herald.

The Association awarded 30 certificates of merit to as many newspapers in the association's second annual local news contest. One hundred twenty-seven newspaper entered the competition.

Aging Pensioner Fights To Keep Childhood Home

Chicago, Oct. 11—(AP)—An aging woman with no income other than an old age pension fought today to continue living in her crumbling childhood home.

And, although she received sympathy and some help from officials, it was not certain that Miss Catherine Mullen, 64, would win her battle.

She was called into municipal court several weeks ago by the city building inspection department because she had failed to make extensive repairs on the old house in which she lives alone at 3030 Quinn street.

Miss Mullen explained that she had neither the money with which to repair the place nor enough to pay fines. She said she is too ill to work. Nevertheless, she told Judge Jacob M. Braude, she wanted to live in the house—her only piece of property.

Judge Braude said he would pay for building materials needed if some arrangements can be made to finance the labor costs.

The judge postponed a decision on the case until Oct. 18.

FORMER SECRETARY OF INTERIOR ICKES WILL SUPPORT TRUMAN

Washington, Oct. 11—(AP)—Former Secretary of the Interior Harold I. Ickes, who broke with President Truman in 1946 and left his cabinet, came out today for Mr. Truman's election in November.

"As between Thomas E. Dewey, the candidate in sneakers, I prefer to support Mr. Truman," Ickes said in a statement.

Ickes said he would "welcome an opportunity to vote for someone else" but "Wallace in his communist stew is impossible and to support Norman Thomas would be wasting a vote."

'Neutral' Nations Fail To Lift Bloc

Paris, Oct. 11—(AP)—Desperate attempts by "neutral" nations in the United Nations Security Council to mediate the Berlin crisis apparently were stalled tonight.

Spokesmen for the United States, Britain and France declared that the western powers are standing firm on their demand that the Soviet blockade be lifted. The three powers were reported to feel that there had been enough time for mediation and the council should go ahead with meetings.

Argentine Foreign Minister Juan A. Bramuglia talked privately again with Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky. Informed sources said the Soviet deputy foreign minister told him that no answer had been received from the Kremlin on mediation efforts.

"Must Lift Blockade"

Western power spokesmen said in the absence of new Soviet proposals they assumed Moscow still insists that the Berlin case must go to the four-power council of foreign ministers packaged with the whole German problem. The spokesmen repeated that "the blockade must be lifted before we go to the council of foreign ministers."

Bramuglia has been attempting to mediate the east-west differences since last Wednesday as temporary president of the Security Council and as spokesman for the "neutrals" to the council of foreign ministers.

In the face of the apparent deadlock, the Security Council is expected to meet Wednesday or Thursday to go over the Berlin situation and perhaps open full-scale debate. Only the western powers have spoken so far, accusing the Soviet Union of threatening world peace. Russia is boycotting the discussions.

3-Powers May Compromise

Dr. Philip C. Jessup of the United States, Sir Alexander Cadogan of Britain and Alexandre Parodi of France conferred privately tonight in the wake of reports, some of them official sources, which indicated that the three powers might be willing to accept a possible "combination" settlement of the issue.

But the western power spokesman reiterated there had been no retreat and the west would not negotiate under pressure of the blockade.

The reports apparently grew out of a declaration by western spokesmen earlier that the U.S., Britain and France are "not unwilling" to accept a Berlin settlement which would combine lifting the blockade with a call for a foreign ministers conference. It was explained that this merely meant that if the "neutrals" could work out some formula that would let the Russians and the west meet each others' terms, it would be considered.

Rockford Woman Receives $125,000 In Injury Lawsuit

Chicago, Oct. 11—(AP)—Miss Marvel Lund, 20, of Rockford, today settled for $125,000 her $400,000 personal injury suit resulting from a traffic collision.

Attorneys said the settlement with Northland Greyhound Lines, Inc., of Minneapolis, was one of the largest on record in superior court.

Miss Lund, of 917 School street, Rockford, lost an arm and leg and was the only one of five passengers injured last New Year's Day in the collision of a bus and a milk truck.

The accident occurred on U. S. Route 20 near Hampshire, Ill., in Kane county. Miss Lund alleged the bus driver was negligent in driving on the wrong side of the road as he rounded a curve.

The settlement was reached in the courtroom of Judge Samuel B. Epstein who had intended to begin a jury trial of the suit today.

Miss Lund, a former waitress, hopes to pursue a singing career and said she will use the money to continue singing lessons and to purchase an artificial arm and leg to hide her injuries.

JOBS FOR THE HANDICAPPED
Our government is making a good attempt to train several hundred thousand disabled veterans for useful work. In addition to these men, the department of labor estimated that in June, 1948, a half million physically handicapped persons already in the labor ranks were searching for jobs.
Many employers hesitate to hire such persons. They question their efficiency. But the department of labor has found, in a 2-year study of 11,000 handicapped workers in 109 plants, that the handicapped were just as stable and reliable as the other workers and, when properly placed, even more efficient.
The blind, in particular, have met rebuffs in seeking jobs, because their presence may require a little care. It is very little and it needn't cost a company anything.
Capitalism, in order to meet attacks on it, must show that it has a soul. There is no better way of doing it than by the employment of handicapped persons.

A large number of friends and relatives assembled at the Church of Our Saviour Monday at 8:30 a. m. when funeral services were conducted for William P. Hogan. The Rev. Dean F. F. Formaz was celebrant of the Requiem High Mass.
Caring for the floral tributes were Mrs. Helen Barber, Mrs. Blanche Rankin, Mrs. Blanche Zimmer, Mrs. Charles Hogan, Mrs. Thomas Gline, Mrs. Fred Kratschmer and Mrs. William Hogan.
The pallbearers were Joe Hennessy, Fred Kratschmer, Guy Akers, Clarence Wooten, Jesse Tarzwell, Herman Sights, Chalmers Babb and Denby Ranson.
Interment was in Calvary cemetery.

H. L. Caldwell To Address Garden Club Saturday

H. L. Caldwell, who as president of the Jacksonville Rotary club attended the Rotary International convention last summer in Rio de Janeiro, will be guest speaker at the opening meeting of the Morgan County Garden club next Saturday, Oct. 16, at the Dunlap hotel. Mr. Caldwell's subject will be "My Visit to South America."
The annual fall luncheon of the Garden club will be served at 12:30 o'clock, followed by the program.
Miss Emma Mae Leonard, music chairman, will present Misses E. Ender Savage and Evelyn McCreery in musical numbers.
Table decorations, always unique and original at garden club luncheons, are under the direction of Mrs. R. C. Henley, assisted by Mrs. Geo. Ticknor, Mrs. Lloyd Magill, Mrs. Anna Coultas, Mrs. Byron Stewart and Mrs. Fred Carter.
Reservations are in charge of Mrs. Lena Kerns, 411 Jordan street, and must be made before Thursday, Oct. 14. Members and prospective members may take guests.
Planned activities for the year include completing the Youth Center landscape project; a potluck family supper at which slides of gardens will be shown; trips to gardens; workshop on flower arrangement; flower show; flower and bulb exchange; Valentine tea garden party in Courtney Crouch Wright's garden, and the annual picnic.

Boyle's Column A Story Of Me ... By Myself

By Hal Boyle
Harrisburg, Pa. (AP)—Do you ever think about the story of me?
Or is our mutual adventure confined to the story of you?
Well, offhand I think you story is more interesting than my story. I really don't have much to tell. It may be a sad thing to admit that another man's journey through life is more interesting than my own—but that is how I feel.
I feel that most of the people who read and think about what I write must have had more trouble than I have—certainly they write me more letters which show they have more courage to face their problems than I probably have.
Boyle Explains Who, What
But a newspaper publisher—one of the men who say whether I do or don't get into print—suggested that after five years of this business I should explain who and what I am. So here is me:
I am a medium-sized, middle-aged balding man with an ineffectual smile of good will. I haven't the hypocrisy to believe that any body ought to buy a cheap crystal ball and be a pundit on what lies ahead. Nor do I feel that I have emphasized enough what I see in my own crystal ball—that if courage and loyalty don't lie ahead, then neither does America.
I was born Feb. 21, 1911, of an immigrant mother who has been the biggest influence in my off-key career. She was an Irish girl who took the Statue of Liberty seriously. She had five children and educated herself by reading the Kansas City Star, but she thought I should know more than they print in a family newspaper. So she backed me through the University of Missouri.
Learned Most From Parents
It was a good university, but I entered it with the feeling that I knew more about life than they could teach me there.
Sixteen years later I still have the

Burglars Stop To Try Typewriters In Two Offices

Offices of two grain and feed companies near the Wabash right-of-way were burglarized Saturday night or early Sunday morning. A flashlight is believed to have been the only article stolen.
The burglars broke a window on the north side of the Jackson Feed Mills on Wolcott street, after which they ransacked desks and drawers in the office. Nothing was reported missing.
At the Lewis elevator office, 325 West Lafayette avenue, the prowlers smashed a door glass. They inspected the interior of a safe which had been left unlocked, appropriating a flashlight but finding no money.
Typewriters and tabulating machines appeared to have fascinated the burglars, who may have been boys. The covers were removed from the machines. Some of the keys were pushed down as though the prowlers wanted to see how they worked.
Both burglaries were discovered about 9 a. m. Sunday. Officer Arthur Woods and Sgt. Harrison Eacret went to the offices and made an investigation.

Police, Sheriff's Men Take Course In Pistol Work

Three Jacksonville police officers and two deputy sheriffs fired 100 times at targets Sunday in the first session of a practical pistol course for law enforcement officers, which will include at least 25 men.
A range has been set up at the Vinton Bourn farm north of the city where the officers will shoot under supervision of F.B.I. trained officers.
Sheriff Ralph Bourn is in charge of the course. He was assisted Sunday by Officer Arthur Woods of the police department as coach. Both men are graduates of a 12 weeks' F.B.I. course in Washington.
Shooting is done with 38 caliber special revolvers from several positions. Sixteen members of the police department are expected to participate in the course.
Another 100 round session will be shot by the five men who took the first part of the course Sunday.

Find $35,000 In Assets At Knetzer Auto Sales Firm

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 11.—(AP)—A receiver reported today he found assets estimated at $35,000 at the Motor Sales company operated by Robert L. Knetzer, Edwardsville dealer in nearly new cars.
The receiver, William C. Dunham, also reported to the federal court that Knetzer had only $216 credited to his individual account at an Edwardsville bank.
William G. Horsley of Springfield, attorney for the receiver, said not all of Knetzer's assets are known as yet.
Horsley said the receiver hopes to collect $500,000 "which we believe Knetzer already has refunded" to prospective buyers who left deposits with the automobile dealer.
Horsley said the bankruptcy law provides that any money given to creditors within four months of final bankruptcy adjudication can be recovered by the receiver for sharing by all creditors and not a "preferred few."
To collect the $500,000 would require about 500 separate suits, Horsley added.
Knetzer and Arthur F. Kramer, a Jerseyville automobile dealer, have been charged with conspiracy to defraud and obtaining money by a confidence game in connection with their sales. Both have been named in federal court involuntary bankruptcy petitions. Kramer also has filed a voluntary bankruptcy petition claiming he has $2,500,000 coming from Knetzer.

Salvation Army Leaders Discuss Youth Problems

A conference on youth problems held at the Salvation Army Post filled the barracks to capacity with delegates from Peoria, Macomb, Springfield and Quincy. Colonel Herbert Martin, divisional commander, piloted the councils and Capt. Loyd Robb, youth secretary, revealed his plans for the future on "Correcting Youth Handicaps Through Parental Adjustments."

The Macomb children's brass band and the Springfield string ensemble furnished music.

The plan of dealing with youth through their parents will become universal in the Salvation Army, according to Major Servais of the local post.

Commanding officers present were Col. H. Martin and Capt. Loyd Robb of the Peoria divisional office; Major George Furman of the public relations department; Major Roland Clark of Springfield; Capt. G. Botu of Macomb; Capt. William Dixon of Quincy, and Major William Friend also of Quincy.

The Jacksonville Post was host to the visiting delegates. Refreshments were served following the councils.

Parents-Teachers Meet At Bluffs

Bluffs—The October meeting of the Bluffs P.T.A. was held Friday evening at the school house with a pot luck supper enjoyed by the families. After the supper Harold Edlen played a group of saxophone solos and sang, accompanied by Lorraine Watson. Janiece Smith gave a reading, "Tom Sawyer's Love Affair."

Mrs. Paul Vannier, district director of District 13, and a member of the local unit gave a short talk on the aims of the Scott County Council for this year and also told of the background workings of the state and national organizations. Mr. Thomas, superintendent of the Bluffs schools, gave a very interesting and instructive talk, "Learning to Decide."

M. F. Fullmer, county administrator, spoke very briefly. The traveling attendance trophy was awarded the second grade. The first grade room mothers were in charge. Next month the second grade mothers will be responsible for the social hour.

Henry Miller Dies At Hospital Here; Funeral Thursday

Henry Miller, a resident of this city for the past two months, passed away at Passavant hospital at 11:50 a.m. Sunday.

Before moving to this city, Mr. Miller had resided in Alton, where he was proprietor of a restaurant. He retired from that business on Dec. 1, 1947. His home in this city was at 1130 East Independence avenue.

The son of James and Isabel McGoldrick Miller, Mr. Miller was born in Morristown, Tenn., on Dec. 5, 1886. His marriage to Edith Rhodes took place in Jacksonville on July 30, 1919.

Surviving besides his wife are three sisters, Mrs. Docia Watson of Knoxville, Tenn., Mrs. Dana Hayes of Houston, Tex., and Mrs. Dora Spoon of Oklahoma; and two brothers, George Miller of Tennessee and James A. Miller of Jacksonville.

The body is at the Gillham Funeral Home, where the family will receive friends Tuesday evening between 7 and 9 o'clock.

Funeral services will take place at the funeral home at 12:30 p.m. Thursday, with the Rev. Clair E. Malcomson in charge. Burial will be made in Taylor cemetery at Rockport.

The Kindest Cut of All

The meeting opened with devotion by Mrs. Roy Gerard. A beautiful hymn was given in response to roll call. An article entitled "Smiles and Scowls" was read by Mrs. Tillie Schone. Members present were Mrs. Aldo Hiernan, Mrs. Mayme McLain, Mrs. Roy Gerard, Mrs. Tillie Schone and Mrs. Robert Workman. The next meeting will be held Nov. 3.

Miss Wanda Marine Weds Bill McGlasson

Double-Ring Rites Sunday Unite Couple

One of the prettiest weddings of the current fall season was that Sunday afternoon of Miss Wanda Marine and Bill McGlasson. The marriage was solemnized at 2 p.m. in Central Christian church, with the Rev. Roy S. Hulan receiving the vows in a double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winfred E. Marine, 710 South Clay avenue. Mr. McGlasson is the son of Mrs. Edith McGlasson of St. Louis, Mo., and Jesse McGlasson of Roodhouse.

A prelude of organ music which included "To A Wild Rose," "Pastorale" and "Romance," was presented by Noel Rousey, who also served as accompanist for Miss Jo Ann Benson as she sang "Because" and "O, Promise Me." Following the exchange of vows, "The Lord's Prayer," was sung by Dick Mills.

Serving as maid of honor was Miss Betty McFarland. Miss Betty Lou McGlasson, sister of the bride groom, and Mrs. Kendall, Litchfield were the bridesmaids.

The bridegroom was attended by his brothers, Boyd McGlasson, who acted as best man, and Ronald and Paul McGlasson, groomsmen. Ushers were Donald Marine, brother of the bride, and Carl McAdams.

The gown worn by the bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was of heavy white satin, fashioned with a net yoke, edged with seed pearl embroidery, and long sleeves tapered to points at the wrists. The flowing skirt terminated in a chapel train.

Of lace-edged French illusion, the fingertip veil was worn with blusher and was held in place with a seed pearl tiara. The bridal bouquet was a shower-effect of white roses, centered with an orchid.

Attends In Taffeta
Faint taffeta fashioned the gowns of the bridal attendants, with Miss McFarland wearing pale green, Miss McGlasson, yellow, and Mrs. Litchfield, lavender. The gowns featured boat necklines, cap sleeves and peplums at the waist. Each attendant wore opera-length gloves of matching taffeta and a bandeau of tea roses. They carried arm bouquets of tea roses.

Similar gowns were worn by Miss Benson and by Mrs. Marian Lair and Miss Marilyn Cruse, who lighted candles before the ceremony. Miss Benson's gown was of pale lavender, while Mrs. Lair wore yellow and Miss Cruse, soft green. A bandeau of white carnations was worn by each.

The bride's mother chose an afternoon dress of gray crepe, complemented with black accessories. A brown suit with matching accessories was worn by the bridegroom's mother. Both had corsages of pink and white carnations.

Reception At Hotel
More than 250 guests were present at a reception held at the Dunlap hotel following the ceremony. The three-tiered wedding cake was first cut by the couple and then served by Mrs. Ronald McGlasson and Mrs. Donald Marine. Music at the reception was provided by Miss Benson, Mr. Mills and Mr. Rousey.

As the couple left on their wedding trip to New Orleans, the bride was wearing a wine gabardine suit, with black accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. McGlasson is a graduate of Jacksonville High school and attended Illinois college, where she is a member of Sigma Phi Epsilon literary society.

Her husband attended the Winchester High school and served in the U. S. Army for three years, part of which time was spent overseas. He is now employed in St. Louis. The couple will reside in that city.

Roodhouse Women Initiated Into Teachers' Society

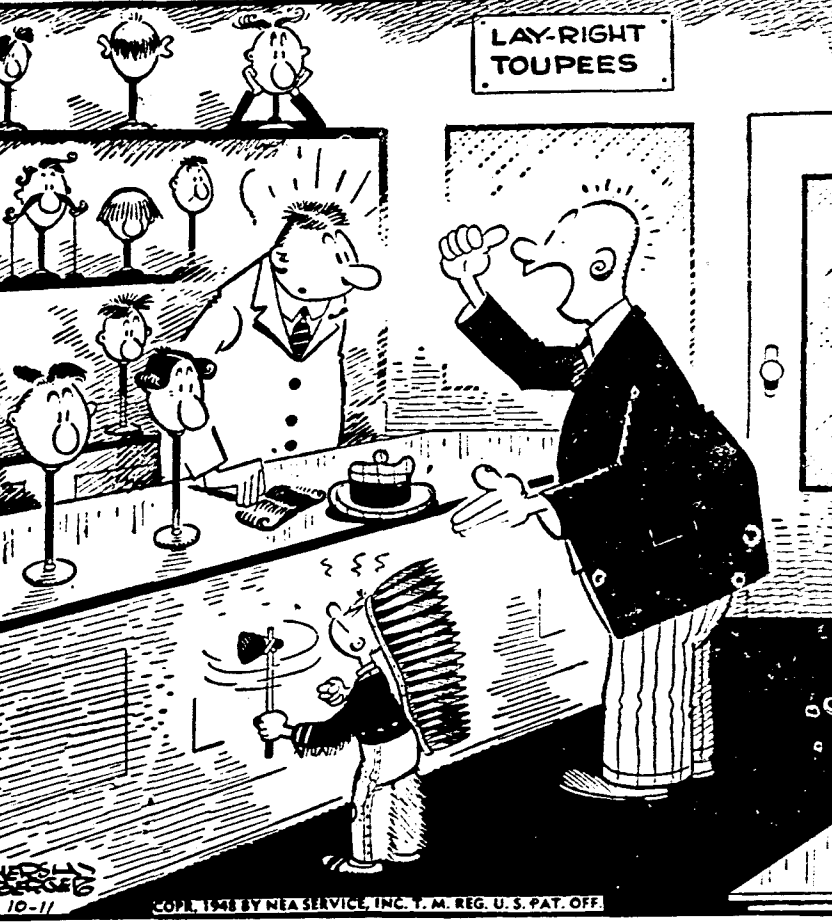

Roodhouse—Mrs. W. J. Reilly, Mrs. Cloyd Sawyer and Miss Mabel Hopkins were initiated into Chi Chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma society, at a dinner held at the Presbyterian church in White Hall.

Three other women from the district were also initiated into this national teachers' society. Following the initiation ceremonies, a business session was conducted by the president, Mrs. Yvonne Ralston.

The members from White Hall acted as hostesses. Miss Edith Hiatt of White Hall read "The Last Word" by Van Dyke.

Mrs. W. A. Wilkinson of Roodhouse, also a member, attended.

Six LIFESAVING RULES FOR FARM PEOPLE

TAKE TIME TO BE SAFE

The loss of an arm or leg is a high price to pay for saving ten seconds. When operating power machinery, take time to be careful. Your life will be safer if you . . .

Observe these simple rules:

- 1 Shut off P.T.O. before attempting to unclog corn picker, baler, etc.
- 2 Keep all shields in place when operating machine.
- 3 Don't trust defective hitches, brakes, clutches, seats.
- 4 Never mount or dismount from a moving tractor. Don't ride on drawbar.
- 5 Don't wear loose, floppy clothing around power machinery.
- 6 Think first. After the accident it is too late.

This year a disabling injury probably will strike some farm person every 19 seconds. Don't let carelessness put your name on that list.

Second Place Battles Top Week's Ivy Slate

By John Campbell
White Hall—The important Ivy games this week will be for second place with the White Hall Maroons favored over Carrollton Thursday night and the Greenfield Tigers giving the Roodhouse Railroaders all they want in a battle at the Greenfield field Friday night.

The Valley leaders, Pittsfield and Jerseyville, should come through their tests this week, but the Jersey eleven will find an improved Lester-coached Winchester team hard to beat Friday night. The Wildcats held the Jersey team scoreless in the first half recently and lost only 13-0. Pittsfield should have little trouble at Pleasant Hill Friday afternoon in an old Pike County rivalry that has furnished plenty of hotly contested games in the last several years.

Indians Impressive
In games last week the Pittsfield team looked very impressive after the first score when they had blocked a kick by Greenfield. The loss of Bob Kattelman after the second touchdown hurt the Pittsfield team but Captain Kattelman will probably be back in action this week.

The long runs of Ken Barnd of White Hall were the thrilling events in the White Hall at Jerseyville game. He went 70 and 90 yards for touchdowns. This had scored more touchdowns in the past three years than any Ivy footballer and he will be among the leaders when the season closes.

Jerseyville has a fine passer in Davis and this had is assisted by Waggoner, a good pass receiver from the end position. Bailey, a hard driving back is the key man in the offense of Coach E. V. Hall at Jerseyville.

Carrollton's improved Hawks have a fine flea-flicker play that paid off for several points last week in downing Pleasant Hill; as goes from Brennan to Ridings to Stables.

Injuries Hurt Greenfield
Coach Don Luketich at Greenfield has injuries with Quarterback Gustine and Fullback Tucker out of the Pittsfield game with bad leg injuries. Tucker is expected to be ready for the Roodhouse game, but is doubtful whether Tucker will be back. Owens, the team captain and halfback of the Tigers, had only three nights of T formation quarter-back practice before facing the Ivy leaders last week. Coachman and Longmeyer go along in the Greenfield back field to help the fine performance of Owens.

Coach Mason Campbell's defending champs at Roodhouse had a close game with a greatly improved Winchester team. The game was a close game with a greatly improved Winchester team.

Ted Horn Killed On DuQuoin Fair Ground Track

Du Quoin, Ill., Oct. 11.—(P)—Ted Horn won't roar that sleek Maserati with No. 1 emblazoned on the hood around the Indianapolis speedway any more.

And he will never realize his burning ambition to win the 500-mile Memorial Day classic.

Horn, 38, three-time national auto racing champion who earned some $55,000 on nine Memorial days, was killed yesterday on the Du Quoin Fair Ground track.

A wheel spindle broke on Horn's racer during the second lap of a 100-mile AAA race. He was pitched onto the track as his car swerved into another racer driven by Johnny Mantz.

Mantz was injured slightly. He left the hospital after treatment. Johnny Parsons of Los Angeles won the race.

The one-mile track was much the same kind of dirt oval on which Horn scored many of his points for the American Automobile Association racing titles he won in 1946, 1947 and already had clinched this year.

Horn was from Paterson, N. J. He tried 10 times to win the big Memorial Day race. In his last nine attempts, he never finished lower than fourth. Last May he was fourth, behind Mauri Rose, Bill Holland and Duke Nalon.

Record Payoff For Ball Players In 1948 Series

New York, Oct. 11.—(P)—Cleveland's Indians, who won the world series Monday, earned an estimated $6,772.05 each for the six days of action—a record series payment.

That figure is based on the assumption that 34 players will cut in to the winning club's share of $238,928.39 of the gate receipts of the world series games.

First Records Broken
The record payoff is one of five world series marks broken during the 1948 classic. Ten others were tied.

Under present baseball rules, the number of shares voted by a world series club is secret until announced by Commissioner A. B. Chandler. However, it has been reported that the Cleveland players cut their melon 34 ways.

The $6,772.05 payoff—approximately $1,100 a day for each of the six games—beats the 1935 check of $5,544.76 to each member of the victorious Detroit Tigers. That year the players' pool also included $100,000 from the sale of broadcast rights. That money now goes to the baseball players' pension fund.

The losing Boston Braves share this year is estimated at $4,651.15. The record payoff to a losing player is the $4,829.40 gained by each member of the 1941 Brooklyn Dodgers.

Records Broken:
Highest receipts for one game—$378,776.73 (fifth game Oct. 10 at Cleveland.)

Largest attendance for one game—86,288 (fifth game Oct. 10 at Cleveland.) Old record, 81,897 set in fourth game Oct. 9 at Cleveland. Also record for single game in a big league park.

Most chances accepted by a third baseman (six game series)—Bob Elliott, Boston, 25 chances (11 putouts, 14 assists.) Old record set by Heinie Zimmerman, New York (NL), 23, 1917.

Winning players share—$6,772.05. Old record $5,544.76 Detroit Tigers of 1935. (Tiger amount included $100,000 radio rights.)

Players pool—$548,213.99. Old record $488,005.74 to St. Louis Cardinals and New York Yankees in 1943.

Records Tied:
Most errors by a third baseman (six game series)—Bob Elliott, Boston, 3. Tied with George Rohe, Chicago (AL) 1906; Charles Herzog, New York (NL) 1911 and Travis Jackson, New York (NL) 1936.

Most putouts by outfielder (six game series)—Marty Rickert, Boston, 20. Tied record set by Mike Kremer, St. Louis (AL) 1944.

Most assists by outfielder (six game series)—Tommy Holmes, Boston, 2. Record held by many players.

Least assists by a team in one game—Boston 3, (first game Oct. 6.) Tied record held by St. Louis (NL) 1930 and 1934 and by Philadelphia (AL) 1930.

Most putouts by outfielder one game—Boston, 15 (first game Oct. 6.) Tied record set by New York (NL) 1912.

Lemon Ties Mark
Most putouts by pitcher one game—Bob Lemon, Cleveland 3 (second game Oct. 7.) Tied mark set by Nick Altrock, Chicago (AL) 1906, and by Jim Vaughn, Chicago (NL) 1918.

No chances by third baseman in a nine inning game—Ken Keltner, Cleveland (second game Oct. 7.) Record held by many.

No triples by both clubs (six game series.) Tied record held by many clubs.

Most times at bat one inning, one game—Tommy Holmes, Boston (seventh inning fifth game Oct. 10).

2. Tied record held by many.

Most assists by first baseman one game—Eddie Robinson, Cleveland, 3 (second game Oct. 7.) Tied record held by many.

WHEAT SOME LOWER; CORN EASY, CASH PRICES DROP
Chicago, Oct. 11.—(P)—Price changes were of little importance in grain futures today, although cash corn tumbled 3 to 10 cents a bushel. The sharp downturn in cash corn cancelled part of the equally sharp upturn of last week.

Corn futures were a little lower most of the day and wheat futures a little higher. In both cases, the fluctuations were so small they hardly counted. Trading was light, and the fact that the market will be closed tomorrow, Columbus Day, contributed to the dullness.

Soybeans showed some bullish sparks in early dealings and held a good part of their gains. Buying came from commission houses. Oats did nothing.

Receipts were: Wheat 29 cars, corn 183 cars 45 and soybeans 115.

Wheat slipped 1 to 1 lower, December $2.25 1-1. Corn was unchanged to 1 lower, December 141 1/2, oats were 1 lower to 1 higher, December 74 1/2, soybeans were 1 1/2 higher, November $2.49-49 1/2.

Squelch Brave Rally In Final Innings To Win Clincher

Boston, Oct. 11.—(P)—Thanks to stout-hearted relief pitching by Gene Bearden in the tense closing minutes of play, the Cleveland Indians staggered through to a 4-3 victory over the Boston Braves in the sixth and deciding game of the world series Monday.

In winning its first championship in 28 years, the Tribe also was the beneficiary of a lucky double play in the ninth inning which probably saved Bearden from serious trouble.

One moment the crowd of 40,103 was sitting on the edge of the seats, expectant of a rally that would square the series at three games apiece, and carry the play-off right down to a seventh contest Tuesday.

The next moment it was all over for the Boston fans but for the sad filing through the exits, and the Indians were boisterously pounding Bearden across the back and half-carrying him in triumph off the field.

Pop-Up Bunt
Eddie Stanky, a steady little character right through the series, opened the ninth by drawing a walk as the crowd roared. Connie Ryan ran for him. Then came the heartbreaker. Sibby Sisti went in to pinch-hit for Warren Spahn, who had done a brilliant piece of relief chumking for two innings, and attempted to sacrifice Ryan to second with the tying run.

Instead, he bunted under Bearden's pitch and lofted the ball straight up, directly in front of the plate. Catcher Jim Hegan snared the horseshoe and fired it to Joe Gordon, who was covering first, for a double play.

The Braves were dead injured. Tommy Holmes, hero of Boston's victory in the opening game, lined out to Bob Kennedy in left field to end the contest and make all Cleveland happy.

Score Twice In Eighth
Only the previous inning, the eighth, the Braves brought the customers to their feet by slugging Bob Lemon, Cleveland's starting chump, from the hill and scoring twice. Then, within a run of the Indians, who apparently had been coasting to an easy win behind the big right-hander.

When Bearden inherited the ugly situation, the bases were loaded with Braves and only one was out. Two Boston scorers on a long fly to center by Clint Conatser and Phil Masi, ringing double off the left field wall. Both Conatser and Masi were pinch-hitters. But that was all as the great southpaw bore down to get Mike McCormick on an infield roller.

Voiselle Is Loser
Cleveland scored its first three runs off Bill Voiselle, one of them a home run over the left field wall by Joe Gordon in the sixth. Spahn, doing his second relief chore in as many days, gave up the last Indian marker in the eighth, before he got his bearings.

It proved, of course, to be the winning run of the series. Ken Keltner, a terrible battering but in the first five games, set it off by smashing an infield hit off Spahn's glove. Thurman Tucker, who replaced Walt Judnich in the Indian outfield for the closing tussle, pushed Keltner around to second with a smack to center, and Ed Robinson drove him home with a single to right.

That, as it turned out, was the last the Indians saw of Spahn. He struck out Hegan to end the inning, and in the ninth set down Bearden, Bob Kennedy and Larry Doby in succession with his elusive curves.

In Sunday's game at Cleveland he struck out five of the last six Indians to face him.

Lemon Was Going Strong
Lemon, going for his second series triumph, was well in sight of it before the Braves ganged him in the eighth. Up to that point he had yielded six hits to the National leaguers and seemed to have the situation well in hand.

After doublings by Dale Mitchell and Manager Lou Boudreau had put Cleveland in front in the third, Boston contrived to score on an assortment of odds and ends in the fourth to tie it up.

Bob Keltner got on when Lemon failed to field his dribble down the third base line. He reached second as Bill Salkeld worked Lemon for a walk. Mike McCormick brought him on around with a smash through the box into center field. Elliott barely sliding in under Tucker's throw to the plate.

Voiselle Good For Five
Voiselle, whose proudest boast going into Monday's game was that he never had been licked by an American league club, kept the Indians in tight check through the first frames except for Boudreau's scoring punch down the right field line. Going into the sixth the tall man from Ninety-Six, N. C., had saved the Indians off with four hits and had struck out a pair of them.

Gordon, who had made only three previous hits in the series, opened the sixth with a towering homer over the left barricade at a point about 350 feet from the plate. It was Joe's 33rd circuit smash of the year.

The Indians asked for their second score of the inning when Tucker drew a walk, moved around on Robinson's sharp single to right and raced home as Hegan hit into a forceout. Actually, it should have been a double play to end the inning. Stanky took Elliott's peg at second for the force and fired to first in plenty of time for the double, but Earl Torgeson let the ball bounce from his mitt.

Fielding Spotty
In other words, the new world

champions would not have scored their third run if Voiselle had received perfect support, and they would not have pushed the clincher across in the eighth if Spahn had fielded a little more briskly on Keltner's shot off his glove.

Voiselle gave way for a pinch-hitter in the seventh after having allowed seven hits. It was a valiant effort by a pitcher who worked only nine complete games during the season and finished with a won-lost record of 13-13.

Lemon said after the game that he simply tired in the eighth. Three double plays helped him out of jams in earlier innings, but this time he got in too deep.

Holmes opened the inning by pelting a single to center. Al Dark fled, but Torgeson rapped a sharp double down the right field line to hustle Holmes around to third and inject furious activity in the Cleveland bullpen.

Bring In Bearden
Lemon, unable to settle down, walked Elliott to fill the bases—the fourth time the Boston third sacker had reached first in the game. That was when Boudreau called a halt and was waggled for Bearden.

The crowd, though hostile to the Indians, gave the southpaw a pleasant greeting as he stroled in. They recalled his great effort of the third game, in which he muzzled the Braves with five scattered hits and shut them out.

So tense and silent were the fans as Bearden pitched to Conatser that the voices of the Cleveland infielders yelling encouragement to the left could be heard clearly in the grandstand. Conatser's fly to Tucker gave Holmes plenty of time to scamper home. And then Masi, pinch-hitting for Bill Salkeld, really caught hold of one.

Near Home Run
At a moment it looked as if the ball might clear the fence, but it banged against the boards high and bounced back as Torgeson roared home and Elliott reached third. Then, with the tying and winning runs aboard, Bearden forced Mike McCormick to rap weakly to the box, and he tossed him out with much to spare. The series was over, except for Boston's brief flare-up in the ninth.

Boudreau, modest as ever about his own accomplishments at bat and afield, gave all the credit for the victory to Bearden. If the Braves had pulled out Monday's game, he declared he would have sent the coach southpaw right back at them Tuesday.

Nine Grand Days
For Bearden, Monday's stint climaxed nine days of remarkable industry. It was he who shutout Detroit a week ago last Saturday to help carry his club into a play-off with the American League flag. And it also was the Purple Heart veteran of the Pacific fighting who licked (at out of Boston's Red Sox in the play-off just a week ago.

Without him, the Indians would have had an awful time trying to beat the Braves, who fully lived up to their reputation as the most stubborn scrappers in the National League. The Cleveland club failed at any time in the series to tee off on Boston hurling, and in the end it was only the superior depth of their own pitching that pulled them through.

By contrast with the record-smashing throng of over 36,000 which saw Boston take Sunday's fifth game in the Cleveland Stadium, Monday's gathering of less than half that number looked very skimpy. The light became very bad in the closing innings, because of a heavy overcast, and at one time there was talk on the field of turning on the lights.

Coaches Pleased, Not Satisfied, With Teams

Jacksonville coaches were pleased, but not satisfied, with the showings made by their charges in games last week end.

Coach Art Yates complained mostly about blocking and tackling of the I.S.D. club. Al Miller, Illinois college mentor, was concerned with the Blueboys' passing attack, which failed miserably at North Central.

Bob Kraushaar, J.H.S. grid chief, called for more emphasis upon passing, downfield blocking and certain phases of the running attack during Crimson drills.

Several Injuries
While minor bruises constituted the full extent of injuries to deaf gridders, reports from I.C. and J.H.S. indicated a bit more to worry about.

Three regulars didn't dress at the high school. Stan Spots is slated for light work all week because of a sprained hand. Charlie Runkel and Andy Petko are reported to have nose trouble.

Brand, Illinois college lineman, suffered a pulled groin muscle at North Central and is on the questionable list. Paul Rust, another lineman, didn't see action against the conference foe due to a shoulder injury. Bob Grove, who hasn't played since the opener, is back and played for a short time at Naperville. Barney Vilks, halfback, is working out in light equipment after being injured on the first play against Scott Field.

Three Nights Activity
The city's fans can occupy themselves with football three nights this week.

Illinois college opens activity tonight with a nocturnal workout on the high school gridiron. Coaches Miller and Joe Brooks will haul their club to the northside field in time to begin practice at about 7:30 o'clock.

Wednesday night the high school freshman-sophomore assemblage, victorious in its only start against Winchester, engages the Beardstown frosh-soph. gridders. The tilt is slated for the J.H.S. field at 7 p.m.

Of course, the week's feature contest is Friday night, when unbeaten Zurekka challenges the hilltoppers, winners of three straight.

Billings To Halfback
One big change is expected at I.C. Coach Al Miller is grooming Dave Billings for use in a halfback spot. Return of Bob Grove to the quarterback position had left fans wondering what use would be made of Billings. Now it appears certain that he'll see as much action as ever, since the hilltop backfield reserve strength is dwindling.

Coach Yates, reporting on the Tigers' game at Minnesota, said that fumbles were costly to the Jacksonville club.

Yates had his charges working on the dummies. The second team players went through a stiff scrimmage.

A harder workout is slated for this afternoon, with the I.S.D. students enjoying a holiday from their classes.

I.S.D. also plays at home this week, entertaining Wisconsin in the homecoming feature Saturday afternoon.

Jacksonville high travels to Springfield Friday night for a Central conference engagement against Feltsmans.

'Old Satch' Sure He Could Win 20 Games Next Year

En route to Boston, Oct. 11.—(P)—Fabulous Leroy (Satchel) Paige would like to stay on with the Cleveland Indians as long as Manager Lou Boudreau thinks he can be of value to the club.

The most famous of all negro hurlers, Paige is grateful to the Cleveland club for giving him his long-awaited big league chance, and is proud of his part in helping the Indians win their first pennant in 28 years.

His only regret—and it definitely is not a complaint—is that he hasn't been called upon to pitch more often. He is convinced if used regularly next year, he will win 20 games.

Although Paige admits he is not quite as fast as he was two decades ago, the fortyish flinger firmly believes his curve ball, control, general pitching savvy and his vast experience can carry him through several more years in the big time.

"I want to remain in the big leagues and especially with the Cleveland," Paige said yesterday as he accompanied his mates on their train ride to Boston for the sixth world series game. "I believe it's a great thing for my race and I want my people to be proud of me."

Paige made his first series appearance yesterday in Cleveland's losing game to the Braves, and was the only one of four Indian pitchers to emerge unscathed in Boston's riotous six-run seventh inning. After the aroused Bostonians had raked Bob Feller, Ed Klieaman and Russ Christopher for all their runs, Paige came in and retired Warren Spahn and Tommy Holmes on a routine fly and a simple infield groundout. He bowed out for a pinch hitter in Cleveland's half of the seventh.

BIVINS OUTPOINTS FLYNN
Philadelphia, Oct. 11.—(P)—Jimmy Bivins, 1994, Cleveland heavyweight, outpointed Johnny Flynn, 209, Richerster, N.Y., in a 10-rounder at the arena tonight. It was the third time that Bivins has whipped the blond giant from Richerster and was Flynn's second defeat in his last 11 bouts.

Suffocation Blamed For Death Of Henry Baby Monday Morning

Patricia Ann Henry, 13 months old child of Mr. and Mrs. James Henry, died from accidental suffocation with a contributory cause of the house burning due to the explosion of gasoline while the mother was cleaning garments, according to the verdict of a coroner's jury Monday night.

The Henry baby was carried from a second-floor bed of the blazing home at 205 Franklin street, shortly after firemen arrived at the scene at about 10:15 o'clock Monday morning. She was rushed to Our Saviour's hospital, where she was pronounced dead.

Order Of Rainbow, DeMolays To Hold Halloween Party

Fifteen members of the Louis Henry Clampt chapter of the Order of DeMolays attended the District No. 6 outing at Quincy on Sunday, Oct. 10. A potluck luncheon was served at the DeMolay cabin by the Quincy DeMolay Mother's Circle at 11:30 a. m., after which the group embarked a cold three-hour cruise aboard the Naval Reserve Trainer LCI No. 647 now docked in Quincy.

Approximately seventy-five DeMolays and advisors from Quincy, Taylorville, Springfield, Roodhouse, and Jacksonville attended the district social event. The next meeting of District No. 6 will be held in Taylorville on Nov. 14.

On Sunday, Oct. 3, 1948, the local chapter officers presented the formal opening and closing ceremonies of the Illinois Grand Chapter, Order of DeMolay, that was in session in Springfield on October 2, and 3. Nearly 250 DeMolays and advisors attended from the fifty some-odd chapters.

The stated communications of the local chapter will be held this evening in the Masonic Temple, starting at 7:30. All DeMolays are urged to be present and all Masons will be welcomed.

On Friday evening, Oct. 15, chartered buses will leave the Masonic Temple for the home of Miss Pat Fulton, worthy advisor of assembly No. 19, Order of Rainbow for Girls, Jacksonville, for a joint Rainbow-DeMolay Halloween party. A wicker roast will be held, after which the group will make up a private skating party at Springfield's Moonlight Gardens.

Raugh Jennings Injured Monday In Auto Accident

Raugh Jennings, business manager of the Jacksonville state hospital, received multiple injuries at about 8:30 o'clock Monday night when the automobile he was driving west on West College avenue struck the rear of a parked transport truck.

According to reports from Our Saviour's hospital, Jennings suffered cuts and bruises, a hip injury and possible internal chest injuries. X-rays will be made today. He was cut near the mouth, behind the ear and on one arm, where veins were severed. A knee was also cut and bruised.

The Chevrolet which Jennings was driving was badly damaged in the front. It struck the truck with considerable force, running under the high rear end of the trailer and bouncing off the left tire.

Eldon W. Powell of Macon, Mo., driver of the tractor and trailer, had parked the vehicle and had left to eat. He reported that the lights were lit. The outfit is owned by the Knaus truck company of Kansas City, Mo.

The accident occurred just west of the South Fayette street intersection. Jennings was taken to Our Saviour's hospital in a squad car driven by Capt. Ike Flynn of the Jacksonville police department. Officers Smith and Spreen were also at the scene.

Dr. H. V. Norris attended Mr. Jennings.

Mary Roberts Parsons Dies In Cleveland, O.

Word has been received by Mrs. Harrison W. King of 1136 West State street, of the death of her step-mother, Mrs. Mary Roberts Parsons of Cleveland, Ohio, which occurred Sunday noon. Death was due to coronary thrombosis. She was 83 years of age. Mrs. Parsons' long and useful life was punctuated with a diversity of activities in many localities and she was widely known as a social worker in the South, in Jacksonville and in Chicago.

As a resident of Jacksonville Mrs. Parsons was active in the organization of the Jacksonville Woman's club and was one of its early presidents. For a time she served as organist at Westminster Presbyterian church. As a member of the local Congregational church she was active in its auxiliary societies.

Decedent was the daughter of the Rev. George L. and Julia Elizabeth Roberts and was born in Hillsboro, Ill. in 1865. Her father was a Congregational minister. Her early education was received in Tremont and she later graduated from Knox college. Following her graduation she

Mary Jean Hughes Slightly Injured In Collision

Mary Jean Hughes, 16, was injured, apparently only slightly, in a collision between a city bus and a truck at the corner of South Clay and East Beecher avenues Monday night at about 8:30 o'clock.

Miss Hughes, who complained of a side injury, was released from Passavant Hospital after examination by Dr. Ellsworth Black.

The pickup truck, driven by Nick Hughes, 760 South West street, and the bus, driven by Harley Holt, 521 Sherman street, were both going north on Clay at the time of the collision. The truck was moving slowly prior to turning left on Beecher.

The truck struck the right side of the bus near the rear exit door and also damaged the right rear fender and headlight on the truck were damaged.

Miss Hughes was standing in the rear of the truck at the time of the collision. She was knocked down onto the bed of the vehicle.

She was taken to the hospital in the bus.

Officers Spreen and Smith of the Jacksonville police department investigated the crash.

Solicitors Begin Residential Area Chest Fund Drive

The residential division of the Morgan Community Chest launched its campaign at a kick-off meeting at 2:00 p. m. Monday.

Dr. Frank Marston, general chairman of the campaign, told the workers present that together with the increased costs of maintaining the various Community Chest supported agencies and the inclusion this year of the USO, the campaign goal this year is 33 1/3 percent higher than last year.

Mrs. Orville Foreman, chairman of the residential division, stressed the importance of the workers contacting everyone. She added that if every house in the residential area was thoroughly canvassed, there would be no difficulty in over-subscribing the quota for the division.

Mrs. Foreman announced the names of the women who will aid her in the management of the division.

Cattle Feeders Day At U. Of I. Set For Oct. 22

Urbana — Saving labor on livestock farms, the beef cattle outlook, and the supply of Texas feeder cattle for Cornbelt feed lots are among the topics to be covered at the 20th Cattle Feeders' Day at the University of Illinois, announces R. R. Snapp, professor of animal science.

The date is Friday, Oct. 22, at the beef cattle barns.

Reports of feeding and grazing tests by the College of Agriculture will take up most of the morning. Experiments have been underway for several years to learn how much feed it takes to finish a choice feeder steer to various market grades and how long a feeding period it takes. Other work was aimed at discovering how long ladino clover and two other clovers can be maintained as part of a clover-grass pasture. Results of this work will be reported by Snapp and Fred C. Francis, assistant professor.

In the afternoon, R. W. Grieser, Chicago producer, Commission association, is scheduled to explain the beef cattle outlook, and Keith H. Hinchcliff, extension service agricultural engineer, will give an illustrated talk on saving labor on livestock farms.

Earlier Jim W. Mitchell, secretary-manager of the Texas Livestock Marketing association, will discuss the supply of Texas feeder cattle, and two Illinois cattle feeders are to give short talks on cattle feeding methods. They are Preston Woods, Waterman, Ill., and F. D. Hartman, Plainfield, Ill.

The cattle to be used in experiments this coming year will be open for inspection, Francis said.

The public is cordially invited to attend the activities and "get acquainted" with their school neighbors.

PEORIA COUNTY CONVENES PROBE OF GAMBLING CONDITIONS

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 11.—(P)—The Peoria county grand jury convened today to receive the results of a state investigation of gambling conditions, but won't start hearing evidence until Wednesday.

Roy P. Hull, Peoria state's attorney, said that results of an inquiry by James P. Howe, special assistant Illinois attorney general, into gambling conditions, will be presented.

However, Howe was not in Peoria until mid-afternoon. And the grand jury will not meet tomorrow, Columbus Day.

The grand jury had been in recess since Sept. 22.

Right To Work, Right To Vote 1948 Issues, Says G. O. P. Speaker

The right to work and the right to vote regardless of race, creed or color are the two most important issues in the coming election, State Representative Charles J. Jenkins of Chicago told a capacity audience at the courthouse Monday night.

The meeting was sponsored by the Morgan county Republican committee.

"Given the necessary fair chance to earn a living and the right to vote to protect their earnings, any race or color will then properly adjust socially, economically and educationally," he declared.

In his forceful oratorical style, Rep. Jenkins pictured the Democratic candidate for president as "a little man rattling around in a place too big for him, a compromise rebel candidate even when he was picked for the vice presidential post in 1944."

The speaker predicted a strong Republican party in the south within the near future.

"If Truman wanted to do something for the colored people instead of just talking about it, he has had plenty of opportunity," the speaker asserted. "Even now he could abolish segregation in the armed forces, if he wanted to."

The veteran legislator contrasted "President Truman's inaction with Governor Dewey's action." He pointed to the Fair Employment Practice act of New York, the first of its kind. This legislation was passed at Dewey's request.

Jenkins claimed the Taft-Hartley act has curtailed the power of big labor bosses and has advanced greatly the rights of individual laborers, especially those of colored people who were often barred from labor unions by discriminatory by-laws.

Introduced By Green

Introduced by his long time personal friend, Speaker of the House Hugh Green, Jenkins praised the record of the Morgan county representative.

Congressman Sid Simpson spoke on the accomplishments of the 80th Congress, "accomplishments which benefit all of us, no matter who we are or what we are, such as income tax reduction and flood control."

All Republican county candidates were present and spoke briefly. County Chairman Ed Williamson conducted the meeting and the entertainment was furnished by the Spiritual Harmonizers.

Waverly Teacher And Franklin Man Married Recently

Waverly—Announcement has been made of the marriage of Miss Loretta Loneragan of Murrayville and Mildred Seymour, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. Seymour of Franklin.
